Description

Stoneware, dry mottled green and white glazes over a softly textured surface, the interior with a green linear design, the rim formed with two points, impressed JW seal. In perfect condition with no damage or restoration.

'It is not surprising that the green, blue and ochre glazes have properties similar to some of the surface colours and textures of rocks and pebbles where I am living. Being near the sea has probably had an effect on the banded decoration I use, either reflecting the movement of water and waves or the dips and folds of the strata in cliff faces. This in turn has affected form '
