Description

A Cobridge, poppy and ice pattern, hand painted vase converted into table lamp on perspex base, 9½" high One of Cobridge Pottery's most popular patterns, designed by artist Anita Harris, leading designer at Cobridge, Moorcroft & her own studio

- Beautiful, lively, naturalistic pattern with an impressionistic quality diffusing and softening the poppies and ice into the sky blue background. - Each vase is hand painted, reflecting the painter's hand and interpretation of the pattern. On this vase the pattern is pared down on this vase to a minimal quality - Juxtaposes with period interiors and blends into modern and contemporary schemes. - Marked JW © 03 AH underneath - The tones of blue, red, green and titanium white are warm and harmonize with most color schemes. - The conversion is recent so it conforms to UK electrical standards. - Provenance : Private Collection. Collected for the subtle differences of the painting on each vase reflecting the hand of different artists or a different interpretation by the same artist. - Can be sold as a collection or individually

Measures: Height vase 24cm., 9½ inches and 36 cm., 14 inches to top of electrical fitting Diameter 13 cm., 5 inches.
